Volunteering has its rewards. Why not play a bigger role and join a nonprofit board?

Are you ready to do more?

Every day thousands of nonprofits throughout the five boroughs make our City a better place to live and work. Whether delivering health and human services, or promoting social and economic change, every nonprofit needs talented and committed volunteers to serve on its Board of Directors.

In recognition of the vital role that board members play in supporting the work of local nonprofits, United Way of New York City is pleased to offer BoardServeNYC. This program connects its nonprofit partners with talented and committed individuals who are eager to share their skills and expertise as board members.

BoardServeNYC can help you:

- Strengthen your leadership skills
- Impact positive change in high-need communities
- Expand your professional and personal networks

How to Join

1. Apply at boardservenyc.org
2. Attend a half-day workshop orientation
3. Create a profile and access Matching Portal

Serving on a nonprofit board has broadened my horizons—at work and in the community. It’s one of the most rewarding things that I do.

—W. Cecyl Hobbs

Being on a board and volunteering is hard work and a lot of responsibility, but it’s completely rewarding and worthwhile. It gives you something to be passionate about.

—Valentine Whitaker
